Seed All Celestial Energies
Peggy Black and the 'team'

We are here to support and encourage you as the magnificent beings of light consciousness that you are. We realize that your main focus is in your physical reality; however, we continue to remind you that you are energy packets of light. You are divine consciousness in a unique physical form. You are here on this planet at this time to lay the foundation of a new world.

When you look out at all that is occurring that is life diminishing, we know that you can become discouraged, despondent and even depressed. We want to remind you of your personal power to create. When you allow yourself to drop into the frequencies and vibrations of mass consciousness, you will always feel the denseness and the despair.

So we invite you to lift your personal vibrations and shift your viewpoint of what is occurring on the screen of this dimension. Remember, every time you make a personal shift, every time you heal or uplift some aspect within yourself, you are adding that shift or healing energy to the collective. We continue to repeat this message as many times as possible in as many different ways as possible so that you may claim your personal power to shift your reality and the world around you.

You are an important aspect in the collective consciousness. You might feel insignificant or small or unimportant, however we are here to remind you of your true magnificence. Your thoughts, words and actions are always influencing the quantum field of neutral energy.

This neutral energy, this quantum energy, is awaiting your impression. By your very observation of events, you truly influence the event itself. Your scientists have proven that energy will become a wave or a particle depending on the observer.

What you focus upon, you strengthen. Whatever you push against, you strengthen. Whatever you worry about, you strengthen. Whatever you judge, you strengthen. Now is the time to empower yourself. Know this truth. You have been taught to use your co-creative ability upside down and backwards.

You continue to create the very things you do not want. Remember, energy follows thought. So begin to watch what you are focused upon. Where is your attention? To what do you give your mental time and emotional vibration?

If you continue to worry about your finances, your health, your relationships or the state of the world, you are adding your most creative, powerful frequencies and vibrations to the neutral field of quantum energy that will match and manifest them every time.

Now imagine the collective consciousness focused on an issue, a judgment, a fear, or prejudice. Imagine how strong that collective energy is in the creation of the very thing the collective is opposed to, afraid of, or judging.

We are inviting you to be the shift. We are here to inspire you with confidence that you are the promise of the change. You are the alchemist to transform the lead of unconscious life diminishing actions into the golden vibrations of harmony and life sustaining probabilities.

When you hear news of horrendous events and your first reaction is one of horror, fear and even rage, you and the collective individuals who are aware of your awesome ability to influence all that occurs on your planet do your best to make a conscious shift in how you can view this event differently. We realize we are asking you to behave in a manner that is different from how you have been trained and taught.

It is going to take a major commitment on your part to become this conscious alchemist. Your behavior, reactions and your state of being are embedded in your connection and entanglement with the collective matrix.

Your religions and your educations have not taught you of your true celestial nature. You are a magnificent multidimensional divine being of consciousness. You are an active part of the divine mind, manifesting your thoughts and emotional vibrations into this dense reality and timeframe.

Everyone on your planet is a part of this divine mind. However, from our observation most are still swimming in the energy pool of limitation, feeling powerless and unable to change or shift any part of this reality.

The energy and dynamics on your planet are out of balance. Most individuals have lost their true connection to the non-physical realms, their connection with the consciousness of nature and of all living things. Your planet Earth is conscious, as are all living things.

Begin to telepathically, heart-connectedly send your love and gratitude to everything and everyone, especially the people and the places of most conflict.

Begin to see and envision your air and water clean, begin to envision clean sustainable energy for all. Begin to see and call forth well-being and health for everyone. Begin to manifest with your words and thoughts financial ease for all. Be the co-creator and anchor of political and world leaders that have the best intentions and actions for the people. Hold the vision for peace on earth.

Seed all celestial energies and gifts with your best visions and intentions. Call upon all the divine beings in the non-physical realms of love and light to be in partnership with you in this awesome endeavor. Remember you are powerful beyond measure. It is a matter of you claiming this truth and acting from this incredible place of connection and entanglement.

Energy in the collective matrix is always connected. When you know this as your truth, your thoughts and intentions trigger the shift and transformation within others, no matter where they are physically. Send healing light and love to all, especially those who do the most harm.

It takes great will and commitment, as well as honoring your true nature as a being of light, to begin to be the shift, to think 'outside the box,' to hold, call forth, envision and anchor a new existence, a new experience. You are here to offer and secure this foundation. Your numbers are increasing as more and more individuals realize that they absolutely, literally, actually have the ability to bring about the shift to humanity.

We are honored that you hear our words and you are doing this work and service. Know that the realms of truth, love and light are ever available to support and assist you in this adventure. We acknowledge you for the courage and fortitude to be in a physical form with all the challenges that are presented. Know that you are loved, know that you are seen and most of all know that you are appreciated. the 'team'
